

BIOCHILL & COLD CELL

COMPONENT PACKAGING

Intelsius produce a range of thermal media tailored to your performance requirements. Our range of semi-rigid BioChills offer a simple option for temperature controlled shipments.

BioChills are single use, semi-rigid foam pouches containing a non-toxic, water-based PCM ideal for 2-8°C and 15-25°C solutions.

Cold Cell provides a light weight, low volume and versatile coolant option for a wide variety of shipments.

Intelsius Cold Cell is a flexible water based gel pouch coolant. It is supplied flat packed, and dehydrated, making it cost effective to transport and store. When required for use, Intelsius Cold Cell can simply be rehydrated by briefly soaking in water. It is then immediately ready to be frozen and used. Intelsius Cold Cell features several small pockets of gel which allow sheets to be cut up into smaller sections. This versatility allows Cold Cell to be used with a wide variety of payload sizes.
